

Australian permaculturist, Robyn Francis, is touring in Washington in August.

Robyn Francis is one of the world's leading permaculturists. Robyn celebrated teaching her 100th permaculture course in 2008. The only other permaculturists with 100 courses to their credit are Bill Mollison and Max Lindegger. Robyn's home center is the Djuggan Gardens in Nimbin, Australia. Nimbin in northern New South Wales is the capital of Australia's "Rainbow Region (analogous to Ecotopia on the US West Coast). Robyn's website is: <http://www.permaculture.com.au>

August 11. Evening presentation by Robyn Francis in Tonasket. Sponsored by Friends of the Trees Society Contact Michael Pilarski, 509-486-2672, Michael@friendsofthetrees.net

Thursday, August 13th: Evening presentation (My Eco-Neighborhood) at Inspiration Farm just outside of Bellingham as part of a daylong permaculture camp event.

Friday, August 14th: Full day Eco-Social Matrix workshop at Inspiration Farm (outside of Bellingham).

Monday, August 17th: Evening presentation (My Eco-Neighborhood) at King's Books in Tacoma, put on by Sustainable Pierce/Tacoma.

Tuesday, August 18th-19th: Olympia (exact offerings yet to be determined with Marisha).

Wednesday, August 19th: Olympia (exact offerings yet to be determined with Marisha).

August 22, 2009. A Saturday with Robyn Francis & the Bullocks - Bullock's Permaculture Homestead. Course Tuition: $75 for the day; includes site tour, 2 presentations by Robyn Francis, & pizza party. $95 if you'd like to spend the night (same as above, but includes camping & breakfast on Sunday morning) For more info contact:
Dave Boehnlein 360-840-8483 info@permacultureportal.com

Ty LaFay is organizing her Northwest tour, contact:
tlafay@villagedesign.org
909.802.9177